Rotation of Objects- Cube-This game has 7 shapes and you can rotate them by touching the space. In 3 rotations, your first would be a square, the second would be a cross, the third a triangle, a pentagon, a hexagon and a heptagon. You can choose to move the pentagon, hexagon or heptagon by selecting the shape and touching the space. Features: Rotation of objects, do it and challenge your visionGameplay Rotation: Weightless Spheres- Mini Giant-This game has 8 spheres and the player need to jump and touch the balls to switch positions. In every 10 positions, you need to touch a ball to make them jump over the other spheres. Features: Jump and Touch, do it and challenge your visionGameplay Weightless balls: Skeleton-This game has 5 levels and the player need to jump over a skeleton. When the ball is touched, it explodes to play the next level. Features: Jump and touch, do it and challenge your visionGameplay Skeleton: The invention relates to the automatic detection and/or recognition of the position of an object with respect to a system for storing and/or displaying image information, and more particularly to a method for determining the position of the object in a television camera image. The invention also relates to a method for associating image and position information concerning the detected object. The use of image information stored in a system for storing and/or displaying image information to recognize objects and position them with respect to the stored information is known. According to a known method in television cameras, a television picture is displayed on a screen and the position of an object with respect to the displayed picture is determined by an operator viewing the screen. The operator must focus on the object until it is detected in the field. A more precise and reliable method for determining the position of an object in the image of a television camera is disclosed in German patent document DE-OS 36 31 488. In that method, an optical marking is optically applied to a vehicle in the region of the grating screen of the television camera. The grating of the television camera grates the optical marking. A mark is applied to the vehicle. In this manner, the system for storing and/or displaying image information associated with the position of the vehicle with respect to the image information can be controlled and/or controlled by the position of the vehicle. A computer determines the position of the object in accordance with the mark
