Newest games for your PC or MAC.1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a hydraulic apparatus for a motor vehicle. 2. Discussion of the Background One example of a hydraulic apparatus of the type described above is shown in Japanese Patent Application Laid-Open Publication No. 2001-329523. In this apparatus, in the case where a torque of a driving force for an output shaft (of a driving force transmission path from an engine to driven wheels) decreases due to a loss of a transmission torque, an oil pressure of a hydraulic pump is increased by a boosting oil pressure generating device. Thereby, the oil pressure of the hydraulic pump is increased to a level corresponding to the maximum transmission torque, so that the maximum transmission torque can be maintained. However, since the conventional apparatus is arranged to increase the oil pressure of the hydraulic pump by the boosting oil pressure generating device, there is a risk that the hydraulic pump may be damaged by an overpressure of the oil pressure generated by the boosting oil pressure generating device. Further, in the case where the boosting oil pressure generating device is damaged, it may not be possible to maintain the transmission torque at the maximum level.

1. Field of the Invention The present invention generally relates to an image forming apparatus and a power saving control method thereof. More particularly, the present invention relates to an image forming apparatus and a power saving control method thereof which can reduce power consumption.

2. Description of the Related Art Recently, problems of energy shortage have occurred worldwide due to environmental pollution. Energy conservation is more important in business models and consumer awareness of global warming. Therefore, in businesses and in residences, research into new ways of saving energy has gained popularity. In the past, a great deal of research was focused on a mode change control method to prevent the operation of one or more components of an image forming apparatus from being maintained during a power down period. In this regard, conventionally, power consumption in an image forming apparatus may be reduced, for example, when a user selects a printing output mode during a power down period. However, in the conventional image forming apparatus, power consumption cannot be
