View Full Caption DNAinfo/Leslie Albrecht BRIDGEPORT — Authorities are investigating the robbery of a local bank by a gunman who allegedly walked in wearing a police uniform, police said. The robbery happened early Sunday at the Bridgeport branch of the Wells Fargo Bank at 663 Main St., according to Bridgeport police. The robbery occurred shortly before 2 a.m., according to police. The Wells Fargo robbery happened shortly after 2 a.m. View Full Caption DNAinfo/Leslie Albrecht A masked man entered the bank and approached the teller counter, according to police. The suspect showed the teller a gun and ordered all of the tellers to put their money in a bag, police said. After the suspect left the bank, the tellers found that an off-duty police officer who was nearby had witnessed the robbery, police said. The off-duty officer quickly alerted colleagues and a Bridgeport police sergeant, who responded to the scene, police said. The Bridgeport police sergeant saw a white male matching the description of the suspect, and ordered the suspect to get down to the ground. The suspect complied, according to police. The suspect was taken into custody at the scene and no injuries were reported, police said. The suspect has not yet been identified, but police said he is believed to be involved in multiple other robberies in the area. The Bridgeport Police Department has asked Bridgeport residents to call detectives at 203-831-6300 if they have any information about the suspect.
